Greetings-

Ringneck Ranch®, Inc. is located on land that our family homesteaded in 1872, a time when the Cheyenne and herds of buffalo still roamed central Kansas. The ranch sits isolated in a pristine prairie valley overshadowed by the Blue Hills range.

Debra & I own and personally manage the ranch, and have offered hunting services since 1983. The operation includes over 10,000 acres of the finest native pheasant, bobwhite quail and prairie chicken habitat imaginable. Coverts, ranging from easily traversed thin strips of weeds to sprawling fields of chest-high CRP grasses, are managed with both the hunted and the hunter in mind.

To further opportunities for our guests, we have established several broad sections of ground where gunners can enjoy longer seasons and extended limits.

We understand that it takes more than quality gunning to satisfy today's wingshooting enthusiast. Hunting parties are kept small for safety's sake, and all are lead afield by one of the Ranch's gunless professional guides. The guides pride themselves on their seasoned dogs from a variety of pointing breeds.

Our superb wingshooting, peaceful lodging and bountiful country gourmet meals, all woven together with exemplary service, are reasons that most guests have established the tradition of an annual trip to the ranch, often returning with the next generation.

The Hunt

At the Ranch, every effort is made to insure that each guest has the highest quality upland game bird hunting experience.

Our hunt package is inclusive of the following:

- Personal service with High-Plains hospitality
- Local professional guide staff and experienced gun dogs
- Excellent on-site accommodations
- Country gourmet meals
- Field transportation
- Ringneck Ranch logo cap and insulated cooler for your processed game
- On site Pro Shop and licensing

Hunt packages are customized to meet your schedule. Plan to spend one to four days of hunting with arrival the afternoon prior to your first day afield. With a mid-afternoon check-in, you may elect an optional shoot at our five stand clay range or take a rod and reel to one of our nearby ponds.

Ringneck Ranch hosts hunts for groups of friends, families, national and international companies. All enjoy the atmosphere of fellowship afield offered with great care and attention to detail. We are always glad to provide references, or answer any questions that you might have about Ringneck Ranch.

Package prices, references and further information available upon request. A non-refundable deposit is required with reservations. However, with a 60-day notice of postponement a hunt may be rescheduled subject to availability.
