

Ringneck Ranch – Tipton, Kansas

The inspiration behind the Ringneck Ranch was a desire to provide visiting hunters an experience that resembles a weekend at the family farm. Perhaps the biggest indication that this hunting operation has been successful at meeting this goal is that 95 percent of the guests come back year after year.

Located near Tipton, Kansas, the Ringneck Ranch is part of a fifth-generation homestead that has been hosting hunters for nearly 35 years. True to its mission, tradition is at the heart of a guest's experience at the ranch, from the hearty country gourmet meals and comfortable accommodations to the knowledgeable and experienced lodge and guide staff ready to assist at every turn.

Hunting on the ranch takes place on over 10,000 acres of managed habitat where wild pheasants, bobwhite quail and prairie chickens flourish. The ranch also offers a preserve-style hunt for pheasants, bobwhites and chukar partridge, as well as opportunities to shoot doves and turkeys during their respective seasons. Each guide at the Ringneck Ranch manages a kennel of trained dogs, ranging from Labs to Llewellyn setters, but guests are welcome to bring their own dogs and may make use of the clean, secure kennel facility.

When you add it all together, a hunt at the Ringneck Ranch does turn into an experience similar to a weekend at grandpa's farm: you won't leave hungry, you'll have a lot of fun and you'll want to come back. ringneckranch.net
